Owens Corning Canada Receives 2012 “Industry Partner of the Year” Award from EnerQuality

TORONTO, Ontario, April 22nd, 2013 -- Owens Corning Canada has received the prestigious EnerQuality award for the 2012 Industry Partner of the Year in recognition of their forward thinking and reputation of delivering cost effective solutions to the builder community year over year.

“The Industry Partner of the Year award recognizes an EnerQuality corporate partner that has gone the extra mile for builders participating in its various programs,” said Corey McBurney, President, EnerQuality. “Whether through sales and marketing support or through innovative programming or financial mechanisms, Owens Corning Canada has shown that they are prepared to put the full weight of their organization’s resources behind helping builders succeed.”

Founded as a partnership between the Ontario Home Builders' Association and the Canadian Energy Efficiency Alliance, EnerQuality designs and delivers green building programs to the residential construction industry. Its mission is to transform Ontario's housing market into the most energy efficient and sustainable in the world.

Andy Goyda, market development manager, Insulating Systems Business, Owens Corning Canada, was presented with the award by Andrew Pride, Vice President, Conservation, Ontario Power Authority at the 2012 Awards of Excellence Ceremony held on February 21, 2013, during the Ontario Home Builders' Association and EnerQuality's Builder & Renovator Forum in Collingwood.

“This award celebrates the fine work of Andy Goyda,” said Christine Sampson, marketing leader Canada, Owens Corning Canada. “It signifies the strong relationships Andy has developed with leaders in the industry and the value he consistently delivers to builders and building officials. Great products and great people make for a winning combination. Well done Andy.”

“We are very proud to receive this award recognizing our commitment, leadership, advocacy and innovation. It’s very gratifying that our work with CodeBord® Air Barrier System and Owens Corning’s cost-effective solutions are being recognized by the building community in this way.” Said Goyda.
